This book was awesome for a once-a-week, "Horrific Friday Bell-Ringer" in 7th grade ELA, or you could do one every day in October! Each slip corresponds to a very short story and there are three slips per page. There are 35 slips. Use them as you wish.

All you need is three minutes and a text. Bell ringers are one of those teaching strategies that can truly change the tone of your class from the second students walk in the door. They create routine, set clear expectations, and get students plugged in and focused during the first minutes of your lesson.

In 7th and 8th grade we will still have at least 15 minutes of reading at the end of class each day. That 5 minutes of Bell Ringer time is precious, but I've learned that having my students coming into class at the start and reading right away doesn't work for me. I'm not saying that's the case for everyone, but not me.
